My Needs

Computer software:

- that does what I want
- and price is reasonable

My Problem

- most “packaged” software does way more than what I need
- most “packaged” software costs way more than I can afford

What I've Found

- software that costs $$$$
- software that's FREE
- free software that I like better than other free software

Types of Software

- PS = Paid Software
- FS = Free Software
- CSS = Closed Source Software
- OSS = Open Source Software
- POSS = Paid Open Source Software
- FOSS = Free Open Source Software

FOSS

- Free and Open Source Software
- Free software vs. Open Source Software; are they the same or different? Recipes!
- Both are free, but open source developers are willing to share the code so that others can help re-write/improve the software (you can also donate to these people as well).

Bottom Line = $$$$

- Free programs may be missing some features.
- So far I haven't missed them, and you may not either.
- But if something is missing, then you decide if it's worth the total price of the program to have that missing feature.
- Start with the free program, if it doesn't meet your needs, purchase the paid program.

My Areas of Computer Needs

- Operating System
- Tech Trouble/Assisting
- Protection (computer management)
- Productivity (file creation)
- Multimedia (audio/video)
- Graphics/Digital Imaging

I'd like to share what I use and other examples of functional software that's economically enticing.

Dear ,

We really hope that you enjoyed your first computer class, "Computers For the Total Beginner", with us. Jim Holton said that it was a good class and it seemed that you enjoyed your time with him learning to get to know the computer.

It is now time for the second computer class, "Everyday planning on continuing your classes with us and learning meeting in a couple of weeks and we want you to join us 17-19. The class will meet those Mondays, Tuesdays, and the cost is only $20 for the 12 hours of instruction. The and review.

We're including the registration form for the class and a class. However, we sometimes take questions from the questions. After reading the description, we hope that you in (or take it in during one of our open times listed on the

✓ Threat Scan

Our most comprehensive scan. It scans all the places malware is known to hide, including Memory, Startup, Registry, and Filesystem Objects. Recommended as your daily scan.

Recommended

Custom Scan

Allows you to scan where and what you want to scan. Modifications include choosing which Objects to scan (Memory, Startup and Registry). Enables you to customize the treatment of Potentially Unwanted Programs (PUPs) and Modifications (PUMs).

Hyper Scan

Quickly checks Memory and Startup Objects for active malware threats. If anything is found, we recommend running a Threat Scan afterward for more comprehensive detection.

Premium Only

Google – Docs

The image shows the Google Docs web interface. At the top, the title "Untitled document" is displayed. Below it is a menu bar with options: File, Edit, View, Insert, Format, Tools, Table, Add-ons, and Help. On the right side of the menu bar, the user's email "jkennedy@apcug.org" is shown, along with "Comments" and "Share" buttons. Below the menu bar is a toolbar with various icons for document editing, including undo, redo, print, zoom, text color, background color, bold, italic, underline, link, unlink, bulleted list, numbered list, decrease indent, increase indent, link, unlink, insert table, and insert drawing. The main area of the document is a large, empty white space. A horizontal ruler is visible at the bottom of the toolbar, showing a scale from 1 to 7.

Google - Slides

The screenshot displays the Google Slides web application interface. At the top, the title bar reads "Untitled presentation" with a star icon and a folder icon. The menu bar includes "File", "Edit", "View", "Insert", "Slide", "Format", "Arrange", "Tools", "Table", and "Help". A status bar indicates "All changes saved in Drive". On the right, there are buttons for "Present", "Comments", and "Share", along with a user email "jkennedy@apcug.org".

The main workspace shows a blue slide with the text "Click to add title" and "Click to add subtitle". A slide thumbnail on the left is labeled "1".

A "Layout" dialog is open in the center, displaying various slide templates:

- Title slide
- Section header
- Title and body
- Title and two columns
- Title only
- One column text
- Main point
- Section title and description
- Caption
- Big number
- Blank

At the bottom of the workspace, there is a text box that says "Click to add notes".

On the right side, the "Animations" panel is visible, showing "Slide: No transition" and a "No transition" dropdown menu. Below this is an "Apply to all slides" button. Further down, there is a link "+ Select an object to animate" and a "Play" button.

JK John Kennedy 10:05 AM

ECOTUC: Warnings about clicking, and another scam
To: me-Outlook

My new slogan that you'll hear me say just about every time I see you (and I know you might get tired, but until I don't have to say it anymore....) is now going to be: Don't be quick to click.

Too many of us (and I did it last week if you read the e-mail) are too quick to click on web links or e-mail attachments. We must start to stop and think: why am I getting this link and where will this link take me (or what will it open or download). As the article from Kim Komando tells us, bad things appear as good things. You can't trust any one or anything if you are quick to click.

I've given you the full path to where I want you to go to read about a new one that is targeting Skype users (which many of us are).

http://www.komando.com/happening-now/395744/malicious-fake-skype-ads-can-infect-your-pc-with-ransomware?utm_medium=nl&utm_source=notd&utm_content=2017-04-02-article-title

I could have hidden it inside a link: best thing ever or I could have created a button/picture to click (click this picture) . At first you might not know where it's going, but if you hover (don't click) your mouse on top of the link, it will/should give you the full address of where it's going. A good thing, Gmail wouldn't let me add a link to the picture without visibly showing the path. But not all programs will prevent that.

So. Don't be quick to click.
